Note

Horoscope is a chart indicating the position of planets at the time of your birth. There are twelve Zodiac signs (Rashis). They rule the houses counted anti clock wise beginning from the middle box at the top of the chart. The middle box at the middle of the top row is counted as 1 and is called the “Lagna” which means the “ascendant”. The sky is divided into 12 zodiac signs like Pisces, Aries, Taurus etc.. The zodiac sign seen at the eastern sky at the time of your birth is called the ascendant or Lgana. The twelve “Boxes” are called “Houses”and beginning from the Ascendant , each house is under a Zodiac sign (Rashi)

There are nine planets ; some say there are 12 including Neptune ,Pluto and Uranus . These are Sun (Ravi), Moon (Chandra or Sandu) , Mars (Kuja or Angaharu), Mercury (Budha), Jupiter (Guru or Brahaspathi), Venus (Shukra or Sikuru), Saturn (Shani or Senasuru) and Dragan’s head and Dragon’s tail or North lunar mode and South lunar mode (Rahu and Kethu) The last two are not really planets – they are called shadow planets and are only eclipse points of the moon.

According to the planets inside a zodiac sign , it could be normal, debilitated (Neecha) or exalted (Uchcha) or Swakshethra (in its own house) position. The strength of the planets depends on how it is placed in the house/ zodiac sign. Exalted is extremely powerful, Swakshethra is powerful ,Debilitated is extremely unfavorable.

Each (Rashi) Zodiac sign rules a certain planet. When a planet is in its ruling “Rashi” or Zodiac sign, that planet is “at home” or in “Swakshethra” position. Then that planet is very powerful.

When Saturn enters 12th, 1st and 2nd house or the eighth or the place where Moon is, it is called an “Erashthaka”. An “Erashthaka” brings misery to the native and is considered very unfavorable.

Yoga is having a planet or a combination of planets in certain houses or being in specific combinations. They bring out specially favorable planetary effects. But some yogas can bring out unfavorable effects too.

Planets are placed in specific places in a house – 0° - 30°. The place of the planets depends on the degree they occupy in the house.

The birth chart gives the place of the planets at the time of birth. But the planets keep on moving. Hence to get the planetary effects on you at a particular time, one should consider the planetary movement at that particular time.
